

UNICEF AT SCHOOL

JULY FUNDRAISING IDEAS

You've got a friend

Celebrate this year's International Day of Friendship at your school and fundraise for children who have been separated from their family and friends because of conflict. Ask your students to make a friendship bracelet, or write a poem or story about friendship.

Vanilla, chocolate, mint ...

... any flavour you want, because July is officially Ice Cream Month! Ask students to design and make their own ice cream flavour or frozen treat. Then invite the school community to come and try them, and pass around a collection tin for donations to Unicef.

Strawberries and cream at the ready!

It's that time of year again – the Wimbledon Tennis Championships are back. Join in the fun by holding a tournament at your school, and ask everyone competing and watching to donate a coin to Unicef. You could even sell strawberries and cream to the spectators.

Keep those wheels turning!

The Tour de France starts on 1 July and the sun is shining, so grab your bike! Why don't you bring together schools in your area for a local sponsored bike 'tour'? Invite students, staff, relatives and friends to cycle between different schools or local landmarks. All sponsorship money will help Unicef keep children safe.

We are going on a bear hunt ...

Everyone loves a good summer picnic. Why don't you celebrate this year's Teddy Bear Picnic Day by holding a picnic or fête at your school? Ask everyone to donate their change to protect children in danger.

Well done,
Top marks! Your support is helping the world's most vulnerable children. Thank you so much.

£90 could provide the midwifery equipment necessary for the safe delivery of three babies – including medicines, sterilization and resuscitation equipment

FOR EVERY CHILD
IN DANGER

unicef
UNITED KINGDOM